Utility - The Greatest Happiness Principle | PHI115
Sep 29, 2014 · Mill establishes the principle of utility by stating that "actions are right in proportion as they tend to promote happiness, wrong as they tend to produce the reverse of happiness; the greatest happiness of the greatest number is that which is to be desired." Utility, therefore, is a principle of ethics that seeks to maximize happiness and minimize unhappiness.

The Principle of Subsidiarity
The Committee of the Regions’ White Paper on Multilevel Governance envisages a close link between multilevel governance and the principle of subsidiarity. According to the White Paper, subsidiarity fulfills two fundamental tasks: first, to prevent decisions being restricted to a single tier of government, and second, to ensure that policies are decided and implemented at an appropriate level.
